

Rockets Of Hope

In the town of Coalwood, under October Skies,
Dreamers, Lovers, condemned to die.
Scholarships scarce, patience is thinning,
Under October Skies

Look up in the sky! It's Sputnik! It's there!
A brief moment of happiness is shone
But for one dreamer this is the inspiration he needs
To break from what's written in stone.

Premature knowledge, unknowingly constructed.
A Rocket of sorts is built.
But the rockets lacked sense; he ruined the fence
And his Mom found him covered in silt.

Realizing that he could not do it alone
He sought out help from his friends.
The rockets improve, his dad wants to move.
Supplies keep appearing; the stock never ends!

"The science fair is coming! This is our chance!"
The Rocket Boys shout with glee.
Colleges watch as the presentations commence
With hopes that a student will go there for free.

Now the dreamers have only one chance
To get out of this place with their lives.
Silently dreamers build rockets of hope
Under October skies...
