Education involves the process of living in the present, understanding the past, and preparing for the future. Education is a lifelong pursuit of learning and sharing with others. During the middle level years, students will experience not only significant, but often the most dramatic, physical, social, intellectual, and emotional changes in life. The middle level program design provides the student with the basic skills of inquiry and successful experiences in exploration and enrichment.

The intramural program provides an introduction to athletics with an emphasis on participation and enjoyment of physical activity while participating on a team. The program offers approximately three weeks to practice and learn, and it concludes with a culminating activity with other Boulder Valley intramural teams.

REGISTRATION Students are required to register for each intramural season at the school. Parents should contact the school directly for information regarding the registration dates.

Boulder Valley Schools highly recommends a valid physical prior to participation in an intramural sport! However, the district minimally requires submission of the intramural permission form.

All forms must be signed by the athlete and parent, then returned to the school with the registration fee PRIOR to participating. Forms are available in each middle school throughout the year.

FEES Participants in intramural sports are assessed a $45 fee per sport.

If you have multiple student athletes, there is a combined family cap of $405.00. Once you have reached combined max, please make copies of your receipts and present them to the school when requesting the next sport waiver.

If an athlete quits or is removed for disciplinary reasons by the coach in cooperation with the building administrator, prior to the first contest, there will be a full refund. After the first game of a season there will be no refunds.

Athletic fees waivers are available for free and reduced students and in case of financial emergency; contact the principal's office for an application and/or additional information.
