

Superintendent's Corner – Jan. 28, 2008

Some people have asked me if our calendar for the 2008-09 school year is available yet. I know parents like to make summer and vacation plans in advance. We are working hard to get that finalized and posted.

Our Board of Education approved most parts of the 2008-09 calendar in January 2007, but the professional development and teacher preparation days still needed to be scheduled. A proposed calendar with those days added in is now being reviewed. The board is expected to vote on the calendar in its meeting on Feb. 12, 2008.

If you would like to review and comment on the proposed calendar, please follow the links available in the center of this front web page. After the calendar is finalized, we will distribute it to all of our schools and post it prominently here on the web site.

Thank you for your patience.
