

Superintendent's Corner – Nov. 13, 2007

It's been twelve months since voters of Boulder Valley generously approved the $296.8 million 2006 Bond Program. Since then, we've made considerable progress toward making the Educational Facilities Master Plan a reality.

Most of the Phase I bond projects are nearing the end of design and are preparing for construction. Many projects will be ready for bid in December 2007 or early 2008. We will then be ready to begin construction in late winter or early spring. By spring, construction work will be underway at most of the Phase I project sites. More information about the status of the 2006 Bond Program can be found in the quarterly report to the board of education and on the school bond program web pages.
